The Brook Hill Lower School held its third annual Science Fair. All third, fourth, and fifth graders presented their projects in traditional science fair format. They were adjudicated by a panel of judges selected from the East Texas science community and awarded the ribbons: distinguished, proficient, apprentice and novice. The judges also picked one student from each grade level that met the following criteria: an articulate presentation, scientifically intriguing, and creatively designed. Not necessarily the "best overall project" but one that illustrates well the goals and purposes of the Science Fair. These students presented their projects orally at the awards ceremony on May 6. Third grade - Chad Niles- "Fingerprint Collection," Fourth grade - Lauren Ellison-"Atherosclerosis Cholesterol," Fifth grade - Daniel Priddy-"What is the Quickest Way to Cool a Can of Lemonade?" Pictured from left, are: Niles, Priddy and Ellison.

USAA HONORS ANDERSON

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Steven Anderson of Bullard had been recognized by the United States Achievement Academy as a student of excellence in history. This is a prestigious honor very few students can hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes fewer than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Anderson, who attends The Brook Hill School, was nominated for this honor by Steve Dement, a teacher and founder of the school. Anderson will appear in the United States Achievement Academy's Official Yearbook which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy students should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Founder of the United States Achievement Academy.

The academy recognizes students upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors, and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards for Selection set forth by the Academy. The Standards for Selection include academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a qualified sponsor.

Anderson is the son of Mark and Sandy Anderson of Bullard. Grandparents are Joan Anderson of Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Irish of Joaquin and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ables of Alvin.

ACHIEVERS

Each year Rotary Club of Tyler honors a middle school and upper school boy and girl from Smith county schools. Criteria for selection include the characteristics of honesty, integrity, service, and citizenship. This year's honorees from Brook Hill are middle school students Abbi English and Coleman Beam and upper school students Lauren Langsjoen and Cody Franklin. Additionally, "Teachers of the Year," selected by the administration and staff of each school, were recognized and honored along with the "Rotary Young Citizens" at the annual award's luncheon held at TJC on May 8. Brook Hill's 2007-2008 Teacher of the Year is Jill Jubar. Pictured, from left, are Secondary Principal Connie Russell, Beam, Franklin, Jubar, Langsjoen, and English.
